THAW'S DASH FOR FREEDOM BRINGS HIM ACROSS LINE

the asylum gate. The police have their license number and the names under which they registered at a local hotel Friday night, and are seeking them.

The hospital authorities believe Thaw has fled to the shore of Long Island Sound and boarded a yacht, waiting with steam up to rush him to Europe.

A reward of $500 for Thaw's apprehension has been offered by Dr. R. E. C. Keib, superintendent of the asylum. Howard H. Barnum, the attendant at the gate past whom Thaw flashed in his break for freedom, is under arrest and other arrests are expected to follow in the rigid investigation begun by Dr. Keib.

The shades were drawn in the dormitories and the inmates were getting their second sleep when Thaw left his room yesterday morning. He was fully dressed. The milkman's cart was rumbling on the road outside as he walked through the storeroom and into the outer grounds. Barnum, sole attendant at the road gate, was pacing back and forth when Thaw closed the storeroom door behind him and apparently did not grasp the significance of Thaw's early rising.

Thaw regarded as "Trusty."

Years of residence in the asylum and repeated declarations by Thaw that he would never attempt to obtain his freedom except by legal means, had established the madman's status as a "trusty." There was little out of the ordinary in his appearance, even at so early an hour, in the courtyard, and if Barnum saw him he raised no question.

A six-cylinder touring car, black, and 60-horsepower, followed by a limousine, also black, loomed lazily along the road as the milkman drew near the gate. Thaw standing a few feet away, apparently unconcerned, waited until Barnum unlocked the gate and swung it wide to let the milkman enter. At the same moment the two cars drew up on the further side of the road, opposite the gate, and stood still, their engines throbbing. As Barnum stepped aside for the milkman to drive inside the grounds he heard the gravel crunch beneath Thaw's feet and looking up saw the madman flash past him straight for one of the waiting cars. With a shout, Barnum started in pursuit, but a flying leap landed Thaw safely within the car. The wheels were slowly turning before the keeper had fairly reached the roadway. They were throwing up a cloud of dust before he had gone 20 feet.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Dr. Carlomagno, a witness in Thaw's last habeas corpus proceedings, expressed the opinion the fugitive will resume his drinking, use drugs and other perversions.

"Thaw's insanity is incurable," said MacDonal. "It is progressive the moment he starts drinking and his mind will revert to the delusions he is being persecuted. He is likely at any time to attack an imaginary enemy."

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 18.—Attorney General Swift of Massachusetts is of the opinion Thaw's case is not one which can be returned to New York by extradition.

"We can handle the case practically though," said Swift. "Probably we can take him to the state line and unofficially hand him over to the New York authorities."

Cannot Be Extradited.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Government authorities are agreed it is impossible to extradite Thaw from any state, or from abroad. He is not a fugitive from justice, it is said, but a lunatic.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—"Thaw is gone forever," said Dr. E. R. Logan, the government's insanity expert. "If he's outside of New York state. He is not a criminal as he was acquitted on a murder charge and is not even insane except in New York state. My opinion is he is now a free man except in debarred Broadway."

BUCKAROOS MEET BOISE THIS WEEK

Having lost the entire series to the North Yakima team but not at all discouraged by their ill fortune, the Pendleton Buckaroos arrived home this morning on the N. P. train and are ready to meet Boise for a week on their home grounds. The league leaders will arrive in the morning and their appearance here for six games will close the baseball season in Pendleton.

Every game which the Bucks dropped to the Braves last week was by a very close margin. The jinks seemed to be settled upon their bench for not once was luck with them. With a lead even until the last inning, something would inevitably happen to rob them of the sweets of victory. With any kind of luck at all, the boys declare they would have taken four of the seven games. The seventh game was made necessary through the fact that President Sweet allowed the protest of Manager Gordon on the game which Pendleton took from Yakima here on July 27 when Umpire Jimmie Richardson made a decision on an infield fly with the bases full which was contrary to the rules.

Richardson will officiate here this week and Hall will hold the indicator in Walla Walla where Yakima will meet the Bears.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL INJURED; MAY DIE

where the other car turned over.

Girl Pinned Under Wheel.

Riding with young Griffith were his brother, Willard, Miss Boothby and Mrs. E. Morris, employed as a domestic in the Griffith family.

When their automobile overturned all were thrown out, with the exception of Miss Boothby, who was pinned under the wheel. It was necessary to lift the machine before she could be extricated. The other three were thrown into the clear and escaped with the injuries they received in alighting.

The Orpheum.

For Tuesday's change, a two-reel Vitagraph featuring Edith Storey, E. K. Lincoln, Anita Stewart, Harry Northrup and L. Rogers Layton. This is one of the greatest pictures ever played. It is one that will be remembered by everyone who sees it.

"A Prince of Evil," Vita. Two-reel. The story of an unscrupulous prince intent upon marrying a wealthy girl who loves another. The lengths to which he goes, the compromising situation that he devises, bringing in her sister, who finally saves her, make this a picture of swift moving romance and adventure.

"Baffled, Not Beaten," Kalem. A young lawyer who seeks the hand of the daughter of the president of the traction company is told by her father that he can not marry her until he has firmly established himself in his profession. A strange fate causes the young man to prosecute a suit against the traction company, who by underhand methods try to steal some papers from Harold. He is thrown out of a car and badly injured but when he wins the case against the company the president is obliged to keep his promise and the young people are made happy.

"Where Clouds and Mountains Meet," Pathe. An interesting and beautiful film of the Yosemite valley.

"Colombo, Capital of Island of Ceylon," Pathe. A Jirikisha through this little town, showing all the scenes of interest which are indeed many.

Pastime.

Visitors to the Pastime will enjoy a good hearty laugh when they see "The Tables Turned," a hilarious Vitagraph comedy featuring Dorothy Kelly, Norma Talmadge, Rose Tapley and Mrs. Kate Price. "Honor Thy Father" is the two part feature and Thomas McQuade devotes a whole page in the Moving Picture World setting forth its many excellent qualities.

"Honor Thy Father." Cines, a loyal girl, promises her dying father never to let his money pass into the hands of his scheming wife and disappointed son. She falls ill, they bully and threaten and finally plan to drug her. The violent measures visited upon her when she escapes, and upon her lover after he takes her part, provide a picture full of sensational scenes and thrilling climaxes.

"The Tables Turned." Vitagraph. Aunt Mary has been shamming sick for a long time and her crankiness has completely worn out the whole family. An accident discloses that her invalidism is entirely a fake and the tables are cleverly turned upon her by her niece Betty. All the family fall sick and Aunt Mary has to do the work. She has learned her lesson and develops into a really useful housewife.

"The Meadow Lark." Edison. A country love story with pretty outdoor scenes. A fine part of the acting is the portrayal of theatrical life. The climax where the minister finds the girl "The Meadow Lark" at the vaudeville and she faints in his arms is grand.

Cosy.

For Monday and Tuesday Miss Helen Gardner, the famous actress, supported by her all-star dramatic company in a two part feature "Eureka." This is a strong conception and is strongly acted. The scenes between the sailor who found the woman on the beach where the waves had tossed her, and the woman herself are nicely handled and make a strong appeal. Her memory is lost and she marries the sailor, after learning that he loves her. It is after her memory returns and her past is recalled to her mind that Miss Gardner does her most powerful work.

"Sauce for the Goose." Gaumont. The restaurant man in order to impress a prospective buyer, invited all his friends to have a free feed. Next day the prospect wrote saying that the place was doing more business than he cared to handle and he would not buy. An amusing comedy.

"In the Night." Eclair.

"How Diamonds Are Made." Eclair.
